BARLEY GRASS JUICE POWDER

RICH IN VITAMINS, MINERALS, AND ACTIVE ENZYMES

PET PRODUCTS

The same barley grass juice powder in our human products, specially formulated for your dog (Barley Dog®) or cat's (Barley Cat®) optimum nutrition. Give 'em what they want!

HEALTH BENEFITS

Better than Grass

Dogs and cats instinctively eat fresh green grass which is rich in vitamins, minerals, and enzymes, but at the same time full of pesticides and chemical fertilizers which can be harmful. Another problem with eating whole grass is that each blade is covered with microscopic barbs that can cause stomach and throat irritation. Since we use only fresh juice - without the barbs - our barley grass powder is good for your pet...and your carpet.

Loaded with nutrients and active enzymes

Our barley grass powder is loaded with active enzymes that are often missing in today's processed pet foods. The addition of enzymes to your pet's diet will enhance their digestive process and maximize the nutrition they receive from their pet food. Sprinkling bacon flavored Barley Dog® and poultry liver flavored Barley Cat® on your pet's food will not only enhance the taste of their pet food, but will also enable more nutrients to be absorbed.

Better Skin and Coat

The nutrients in barley are beneficial for your pet's skin and coat. From testimonials received from our customers, both Barley Dog® and Barley Cat® have assisted some pets with skin conditions, allergies, and dull coats.

Natural Flea Repellent

Garlic is a natural flea repellent for both dogs and cats. In addition, garlic assists in the digestive process and also discourages worms and other parasites.

Special to Barley Dog®

The yeast in Barley Dog® is rich in B vitamins which can enhance their metabolism and digestion as well as aid in repelling fleas. The yeast is bacon flavored so that dogs will naturally want to eat it.

Special to Barley Cat®

Barley Cat® contains taurine, an amino acid that cats cannot synthesize themselves.

Taurine deficiency is known to cause degeneration of the retina and possible blindness, as well as cardiac problems. Studies have shown that up to 80% of the taurine that occurs naturally in meat can be lost in the cooking process.

No Pesticides or Unhealthy Chemicals

The barley used in Barley Cat® and Barley Dog® is grown without the use of pesticides or chemical fertilizers, and is the same barley that we use in our human products.
