CuraSil vs Toothpaste

- ✓ Kills 3 main oral bacteria while accelerating the natural healing process
- ✓ Reduces Swelling and Inflammation
- ✓ All Natural and Safe to Ingest
- ✓ Non Abrasive
- ✓ Recommended for daily long term use
- ✓ Safe for the whole family

Toothpaste

- × Unsafe to ingest
- × Does not kill major oral bacteria
- × Abrasive on teeth, dentures, tooth restorations, tongue or inside of mouth
- × Contains Sodium Lauryl Sulphate corrosive to gum tissue
- × Correlation between some toothpaste and cytotoxicity

Applications

- Everyday Tooth Gel and Mouth Rinse, recommended for long term use
- Periodontal Issues
- Lesions resulting from chemotherapy or radiation
- Cleaner for Invisalign trays or dentures
- Post operative rinse
- Alternative to Chlorhexidine
- Surgical Irrigant or Gel

WHAT OUR CUSTOMERS ARE SAYING

- “A patient with very sensitive tissues finds regular toothpaste difficult to use because it burns. I just saw her back for a follow up and she felt very comfortable using the toothpaste and it didn't irritate her tissues.”
 - Kerri –Hygienist
- “ I used to have sore gums and sensitivity. Since using CuraSil Tooth Gel and Mouth Rinse my pain is gone and my gums feel so much better.”
 - Ron – Calgary A.B
